● AREZZO and the surrounding area

Arezzo is one of the Tuscany's most ancient city, it was founded by the Etruscans and after that it was made a main area during the roman empire. In the Italian territory it's not usual to find a such small area which is able to offer a so huge environmental and cultural heritage. Even only a tour at the Cathedral to see the frescoes depicted by Piero della Francesca could represent a excuse to break one's journey in the city.

The great times of art and architecture of Arezzo are shown even by the medieval neighbourhood.

In the surrounding area it's possible to make a tour through others treasures such as Cortona and Cetona, discover the Valdichiana and Casentino valleys, all places with their naturalistic and wine and food routes.

Thanks to many links you can easily reach others important cities such as Siena, Pisa and Lucca.

10 YEARS OF SUCCESS

10 years. This is the birthday that in 2010 FIDASC will celebrate in the most exciting of the ways, hosting in Laterina, in the heart of Tuscany, the 32nd edition of the “path of itinerant hunting” World Championship. On that occasion, it will ideally completed two decades of a growing activity, characterised by statements and successes not only in the sports field, but also on technical and organisational fields.

Already in 2006, in the same Brescia which is now hosting this event, the FIDASC had his more authoritative International baptism, organizing a memorable edition of the European Championship that still today is a benchmark for all the other nations.

But since the FITASC (the international reference organization) assigned officially to us this delicate and exciting task, there is only one great certainty: each of us will do to its best part, leaving no stone unturned in order to improve and overcome the success of Lonato of year 2006 and to honor not only the sport and CONI, but all our country.

In this first decade of life, the Italian path of itinerant hunting has burned the stages of a difficult way towards the strongest and experts shooters of countries such as England, France and USA where this fascinating discipline not only not suffer restrictions of bureaucracy, but is enhanced in every possible way, because it represents an activity extremely safe and it is rich of extraordinary educational, social and environmental values.

Felice Buglione, FIDASC President
